One of the group's methods of operation, the suit said, involved "manipulation and fabrication" of news stories in basketball games.

Three University of Kentucky basketball players pleaded guilty last year in New York to keeping down the scores in fixed games after being paid by gamblers. Two others admitted to a New York grand jury that they manipulated the scores in games played outside New York.

News Briefs
TEXARKANA (UP) — A 2,000 gallon whiskey still, the biggest found in Miller county since prohibition days, was just so much kindling and scrap metal today.

Local officers and federal tax agents raided the still yesterday and smashed it to smithereens after arresting one man, Louis Steller, 30. A second man fled into the woods.

Steller was jailed on $750 bond for liquor tax violation.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tillman Johnson said the still's output was about 300 gallons of whiskey a week, which at $8 a gallon would net the operators about $1,800 weekly.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK (UP) — Prices were mixed today in the Stock Market with trading relatively quiet.

The market started with a downward tendency, but this gradually gave way before slightly better prices in various areas, and the list as a whole presented a fairly even balance of gains and losses.

The price spread was from around a point lower to fractions higher.

Railroads, steels and motors were mostly lower. Utilities and copper were quite steady. Aircraft were higher and some oils displayed good gains.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK (UP) — Cotton futures moved in a narrow range in mixed trading today. Liquidation and hedging brought early declines but the market later recovered some what on mill buying and short covering. Switching from nearby May to July and other months was fairly active.

Late afternoon prices were 30 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close, May 33.40, July 33.50, Oct. 33.83.

ing House Ways and Means subcommittee which has approved his bill to cut personal income taxes about 10 per cent on July 1.

Reed explained, as he did yesterday, that to bring his bill to the floor without approval of the rules committee would open it to rivalling amendments "providing tax relief for special groups."

Since that would have "defeated my purpose of providing relief for all people," Reed said he has not decided to press the bill to the floor or blast it out of the committee by getting 218 members to sign a discharge petition.

He said he was confident the Rules Committee will act "in the very near future" making it unnecessary "to precipitate the issue by utilizing the discharge procedure."

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (UP) — House leaders indicated today that delays in writing appropriations bills may postpone floor action on tax cuts for several months.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee said in an interview "there's not a chance in the world" that the big defense spending bills can be brought to the House floor before May 25.

And it will be June, he added, before the foreign aid appropriation is ready for a vote.

This raised a prospect that floor action will be delayed similarly on a tax trimming bill being urged by Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee.

Reed's bill would advance by six months — from Dec. 31 to June 30 — a 10 per cent scheduled in personal income tax rates.

Any further delay in action on Reed's bill would add new fire to the feud between him and Republican leaders, including President Eisenhower, over the legislation.

Reed charged in effect, yesterday that Eisenhower and others who oppose early tax cut action are betraying their campaign pledges. He termed it "unfair, dishonest and gaining office under false pretenses... a shocking disregard of the will of a sovereign people."

Eisenhower told a news conference several weeks ago he never promised early tax cuts but had set tax reduction as a goal for his administration.

House leaders have stressed — and Eisenhower reiterated yesterday — that tax reduction moves should be held off until spending is cut and a balanced budget is in sight.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Gov. Francis Cherry allowed at his news conference yesterday that it's pretty hard for a political candidate to control votes.

Cherry told this story: One of his supporters in the 1952 gubernatorial race offered to deliver the entire vote of a north east Arkansas township but Cherry declined the offer with thanks.

Nonplussed, the supporter said he'd looked 'em anyway.

"I looked up the vote in that township after the election was all over," said Cherry. "Sure enough, the vote was 245 to one — and I got the one."

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Gov. Francis Cherry probably will sign a bill creating an Arkansas turnpike authority and then name state highway commissioners to the agency.

The authority would be set up under a 1953 legislative act which has not yet been signed by Cherry, but he said yesterday he probably would sign the bill.

Cherry said he may name all five state highway commissioners to the new authority.

"I can't see any harm in it," the governor said. He added that it would give the highway commission something to say in any turnpike construction program.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The International Association of Personnel in employment security was to open its first annual institute and convention here today.

Bayard (Tony) Taylor, employment security administrator, was to address some 350 delegates attending the opening session.

The institute, the Arkansas chapter's first, is being conducted in cooperation with the University of Arkansas. The Arkansas chapter has 408 members.

Barney Harris, Hot Springs, is state chapter president.

State Labor Commissioner Joe R. Cash was to address a luncheon meeting and a panel on "the role of labor market information in a strong economy" was set for 2:45 p. m.

MARIANNA (UP) — The powerful Van Buren Pointerettes raced unscathed through the quarterfinals of the Arkansas High School Girls Basketball Tournament here this morning, dropping Ray 60-47.

Ruth Bryant's 27 points were high for Van Buren; Melba Ellis, with 24, was top pointmaker for Ray.

TORONTO, Ont., (UP) — Electrician Thomas Donnelly was fined $78 for "tapping" a neighbor's television aerial so nearly that repair men spent two months and charged $98 looking for the leak.

Morris Alter's act went blank continuously and "the image looked like a snowfall," his counsel said in court yesterday.

Strows, which looked like supports were found in the aerial and traced to Donnelly, who was enjoying his own TV on a set fed by Alter's aerial.

LONDON, (UP) — Screen Star Vivien Leigh, hysterical when she boarded a plane in New York yesterday, stepped blithely out of it today, smiling happily, with her arms full of red roses.

Somewhere over the Atlantic, it appeared, she had made a remarkable — if only temporary — recovery from a nervous breakdown.

For 20 minutes after other passengers in the huge British Overseas Airways stratoscruiser landed, Miss Leigh remained aboard.

Four doctors and a British Overseas Airways Nurse immediately went aboard the plane. Sir Laurence Olivier, Miss Leigh's husband, accompanied the star in her dramatic flight. Nine London airport policemen kept newspaper correspondents and photographers well away and the star remained on the plane long after other passengers had left.

a medal for 25-year wives. The only reservation they made was that the cost, naturally, should be borne either by their employer or by the government.

"My wife gives me pin money," said one henpecked Henry. "But not diamond pin money."

All the husbands were interested in the design of the proposed housewives medal. Here are a few they suggested:

(1) "A brass shield decorated with 25 silver teardrops — to show his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lahroy Spates."

the lady has given the best tears of her life.

(2) "Patience on a monument. 'The figure of a woman rising triumphant from a shattered paycheck."

(4) "It ought to be just a long silver needle with the figure 25 on it — standing for all the years my wife has been giving me a big needle."

(5) "An angel with a halo over her head and a broken vacuum cleaner in her hands."

As you can see, any husband who gave his wife a medal with any of these weird designs on it would probably soon be paying alimony.

One husband had a counter proposal.

"If they give medals to 25-year wives they ought to give them to 25-year husbands, too," he said. "The wear and tear is equal on both parties."

"And I know the design I want on my medal — a mouse on a treadmill. Guess we'd better drop the whole idea."

President Ulysses S. Grant was named Hiram Ulysses Grant, but the name was changed because a congressman made an error when Grant was named to West Point and the future President allowed the error to stand.

Dear Miss Dix: Three years ago,

Dear Miss Dix: I am entering college in the fall, but am heart-broken over my mother's lack of interest in my future there. I know it is essential to one's social life to belong to a society, but mother says college is costing enough, and she can't afford the additional expense of a society. PATTY

Help To Finance Deal

Answer: You have a one-sided sense of values, Patty. Apparently you are going to college just for the social whirl. If you have no more serious motives than that, save your mother's money and give up the college idea. Society life is a very pleasant aspect of a college career, but it certainly isn't essential. Moreover, if it is so important to you, what's the matter with earning some money to finance it? At least half the girls in college work part time to pay some of their expenses, and practically every college has a place for a student to help you find a part-time job. Going to college is a wonderful experience, and so is the social life that goes with it. Don't be a campus snob, however. Be an all-around girl and you'll have lots more fun, to say nothing of the richer experiences you will gain.

Dear Miss Dix: Three years ago,

at the age of 10, I married a girl much younger than myself. My family would have been nice to her. The marriage was successful until recently. My place of business is near my mother's home, so I frequently go over to have lunch with her. My wife protests vigorously over this practice, and has told me that I am to visit my mother only when she, my wife, says I can. I'm not the type to take this sort of bossing, so at present we're having some hot arguments over it. What can I do?

Answer: The little woman is just putting out feelers to see how much she can get away with. Glad to see you aren't the yielding type. Stick to your guns, but see you intend to use your lunch time as you see fit, and you're taking no orders!

Dear Miss Dix: Through a friend of mine, I acquired a pen pal in Korea and we've been corresponding for several months. Recently he sent me an engagement ring and wants me to marry him when he returns, which will probably be this summer. I've never seen him and hesitate to enter into an engagement on such short acquaintance, though I have come to think highly of him through his letters. Could a marriage like this be successful? MILDRED

Answer: Although correspondence alone is a fair basis for marriage, it has been known to result in happiness. However, I would urge that you postpone a formal engagement until the boy comes home and you have some opportunity to become acquainted in a more conventional way. You'll probably find that the mutual interest fostered by mail will hold up very nicely under closer scrutiny.

Dear Miss Dix: The 17-year-old daughter of a friend has been invited for a drive, and to spend the evening, by a classmate. Her mother doesn't know the young man, and refuses to let her daughter go out with him unless he has spent an evening at their home first. While I know the young lady is thoroughly trustworthy, I am in agreement with the mother. The girl, however, says it would be embarrassing to propose such a thing to the boy. D. N.

Answer: The girl is undoubtedly wrong in her assumption. Most young men are perfectly willing to accede to parent's wishes when dating young girls. If the girl did not want to make too much of an issue of the matter, she could suggest that the boy come to dinner on the evening of their date. This should give her mother a good opportunity to appraise him. I have also that it's a fine idea for parents to know the boys who date their daughters, but it isn't always feasible for a mutual acquaintance to be developed before a first date.

Dear Miss Dix: Two years ago my husband became dissatisfied with things at home and left to get a job in another city. I have not seen him since, though he does send money regularly for the children. Now he has asked for a divorce, since he has fallen in love with another woman. I still love him and want him back, so I've refused the divorce. His family agree with me and keep telling him he should come home.

Answer: If your husband is sincerely in love with someone else, your refusal to accept a divorce won't bring him back to you. There is always the chance, however, that his feeling for the other woman is infatuation, and if you want to take a chance on that eventually (which in this case seems remote), holding up the divorce may bring him to his senses.

Johnny Cole Signs With Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. — Johnny Cole, University of Arkansas defensive halfback, has signed for his professional football debut with the Baltimore Colts. The 185-pounder, who was the college's leading tackler last fall and was the Colts' tenth draft choice.

Caldwell to Try Again at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Caldwell was to try again today in the featured Oklahoma Purse to annex his third Oklahoma Park victory of the season.

The Oren Sledge thoroughbred, barely missed triumph last 3 when he was nosed out by Stop Gap in Monday's feature race.

Fifteen senior sprinters were entered for the $1,800 5-furlong spring and only 11 of them going postward with him could provide stiff competition for Caldwell.

Others named were J. Levine's Gay Larkspur, F. H. Swann's Mr. Fiske, Mrs. V. E. Smith's Etelka, R. C. Gilmore's Thoroughbred, C. R. Randall's Line Driver, E. H. Beezley's Pintail Sprig, Mrs. H. E. Mitchell's Fleet Argo, Johnson and Carter's Carls Pidge, Mrs. J. M. Cumber's Mornosnooze, Thompson and Gendy's Lucky Lady, E. H. Moody's Mr. Dink, combined with Ralph Lowe's Clear Day in an entry, Mrs. T. M. Pruitt's Ida C and MacGregor and Arnold's Happy Gander.

Five Arkansas Derby candidates were among the 16 3-year-olds entered in the secondary feature of today's card, a five and a half furlong dash. They were Reynolds Brothers' Texas Melody and Haskell, M. H. Van Berg's Dink, Henry Forrest's Wismo and Edward M. Coomans' Kildanger. Also entered was Mrs. Emil Denmark's Bill Burke, a Kentucky Derby nominee.

My Time beat Hairbow in a photo finish in winning yesterday's Showman's Purse. McGrathina was third.

My Time, owned by William Fudge and ridden by Jockey Vernon Smith, raced head and head with DenCal and McGrathina to the top of the stretch, took the lead and fought off Hairbow's close bid and DenCal came in fourth. My Time was clocked in 1:04 1/2.

ARKANSAS Sportettes

By CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — It seemed a bit unusual that a man who was a star tailback in his playing days would turn out to be a line coach. "How come?" we asked University of Arkansas line tutor Dick Hill, who set some college passing records at Mississippi College in the late twenties.

"Well," the lean, affable mentor replied, "when I first started coaching at Biloxi, Miss., High School I concentrated on the backs and had an assistant to handle the line."

"That didn't pan out so well, so the next year I took over the line-men and hired a new assistant to work with the backfield. I've been coaching line-men ever since."

Hill coached at Mississippi State before joining Bowden Wyatt at Wyoming and then following him to Arkansas.

Arkansas Athletic Director John Barnhill uses another Wyatt aide, Backfield Coach George Cafego, to illustrate his theory that it's more important for a quarterback to have the confidence of his team-mates than to be a master strategist.

Barnie says that when Cafego, a tailback, was leading Tennessee to victories 15 years ago "He didn't always call the strategy the best play—but he played always worked. The boys made it work because they thought if Ole George called it, then it had to be right."

Cafego is the only member of the Razorback staff with considerable pro football experience. He played with Brooklyn, Washington and Boston.

Wyatt, himself, turned down a pro offer from the Chicago Cardinals in order to start his coaching career as an assistant at Mississippi State.

The fact that Arkansas will be for the five and a half furlongs. "The largest weekday crowd of the meeting, 274, turned out yesterday."

AAU Boxing Meet to Start

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — The Arkansas AAU boxing tournament gets under way here tonight, with about 100 fighters seeking state championships and an opportunity to seek national honors.

Winners of the eight weight divisions will compete in the National AAU meet at Boston.

Some 20 fights are on tap for tonight. Pairings were to be drawn up following weigh-ins this afternoon. Preliminaries will continue Saturday. Finals are carded Monday.

Entries represent 17 cities—Osceola, Ozark, Ft. Smith Hot Springs, Little Rock, North Little Rock, El Dorado, Camden, Pine Bluff, Clarksville, Fayetteville, Augusta, Arkadelphia and Batesville.

Mineral Springs Beaten in State Meet

MARIANNA, Okla. — Calico Rock, winner of 44 of 45 games this season, and Van Buren, only team to whip Calico Rock, are expected to meet in the Arkansas high school girls basketball tournament final tomorrow night.

Van Buren, which won the regular-season scrap by one point, shot for a semi-final berth this morning against Bay, DeWitt and Mt. Vernon met in the other game of the only Southwest Conference team using the single wingback formation next season should be a help to the Razorbacks.

The Porks can spend the full season building a defense for the T, which in one form or another is used by the other six clubs. But the Texas boys will have only a week before their Arkansas game, so switch from T defenses to methods of combating the two-on-one blocking of the single wing.

Fred Babb, quite a basketball player when at Ft. Smith High, is listed as one of the top out-fliers on the Oklahoma A.&M. baseball squad this year.

You can't count chickens etc. . . . Tuesday afternoon an Osceola source reported that Tommy Spiers, the Osceola passing ace who dropped out of Ole Miss, had told him he would enroll at the U of A for the summer term. That night Spiers announced he'd enter Memphis State immediately.

Diligently Pray
For The Work of Your Church

YOUR LIFE!

What is your life? "It is a vapor that appears for a little while and then disappears," James 4:14. It doesn't take long to burn a match or to live a life. From twenty to seventy looks like a long road, but from seventy to twenty is a mighty short road.

A match consumes itself to serve others. Every worthwhile life is like that. One either burns out or rusts out. The worth of life is not how long it is but how well it is lived. A good life has a vital glow... many little deeds made meaningful by a few great decisions. Decide now to attend church regularly. A match doesn't burn very long. Life is short. Eternity is much longer.

Catholics Greet Pope With Cheers

VAITCAN CITY (AP) — Rousing cheers rang through Vatican Palace today for Pope Pius XII as he granted his first public audience since he became ill two months ago.

As he appeared, shouts of "Viva il Papa" burst from some 8,000 persons — half of them Italian students and school children.

ATOMIC ENERGY

If there is anything that few people know much about, it is atomic energy and what is being done by the Atomic Energy Commission. If there is anything that nobody, in or out of the government, can know anything about, it is what the future of the use of atomic energy can be, what changes will be wrought in our society because of it, what wonders research in this field will ultimately produce.

This subject ordinarily would be discussed openly in universities and in Congress. But we are at war. The enemy has already stolen some of our achievements in this field and is ready to steal everything we do. The perils, but not the benefits, of atomic fission are immediately upon us. Therefore, the very great secrecy is essential.

And it is because of this secrecy that the American people perhaps forget that there is an Atomic Energy Commission that it is engaged in a great work of research in the use of fissionable materials in peace as well as war, for health.

There will be a "Dramatic Tour" held at Yerger High school auditorium Friday night, March 20. The following schools have been invited to participate: Clow Training School, Childress High School, Lockesburg High School, Lincoln High School and Yerger High will also present a play. The time is 8 p.m. and admission is 35c for adults and 25c for students. This promises to be a night full of fun, excitement and good acting. It is sponsored by Yerger Stagecrafters Dramatic club.

The annual Hempstead County Talent program will be held April 10, at Lincoln High School, Washington. Each school will be represented with three selections. A classical choral selection by the high school department, a short playlet by the intermediate department, and a poem by the primary department.

Joe Bankhead died at his home in Gordon Thursday, March 19. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Ethel Gamble died in a local hospital Wednesday, March 18. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Will Montgomery, 67, died at his home in Clipper, Ark. March 14. He is survived by his wife, one son Felix of Minden, La., two daughters, Leticia Montgomery also of Minden, and Mrs. Pinkie Benjamin of Houston, Texas. Funeral services will be at Fulton, Ark. on March 23 at 2 p.m. with Jones' Funeral Home in charge.

St. Andrew's Lodge No. 10, will meet tonight at Hick's Funeral Home at 7:30. All members are urged to attend.

Million Chicks Divided in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Over one million chicks were placed with producers in the Northwest area this week by hatcheries and dealers — an increase of one per cent over last week.

The Arkansas Crop Reporting Service said today that of the 1,802,000 broilers chicks placed with producers, 732,000 were hatched in the area and 354,000 came from other states.

Approximately 300 student delegates, faculty sponsors and principals from the schools are expected.

ing as well as destruction; that it is stockpiling the atom and hydrogen bombs for our defense.

The present Administration is looking for ways to save money and there are thousands of holes in the sieve called government that can be plugged up. Best opinion in Washington is that the Pentagon is probably the agency for the greatest waste. But no one can actually know whether there is or is not waste in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission. Who is to place a limitation on the stockpiling of bombs? Who can know how many we shall have to use if the enemy attacks our country? There is no longer a shortage of fissionable materials; yet there are some who suggest that this would be a good time to stop stockpiling. Can anyone guarantee that there will be no shortage should war occur, despite the fact that most of the ores come from the Belgian Congo and Northwest Canada? We can be cut off from the source of supply.

Again, we must face the fact that the next war will not be fought as World War II was fought, just as World War I was not fought as World War I was fought. The existence of the atom bomb, of guided missiles, of the atom bomb, of the atom-driven submarine, of the atom-driven airplane and of many applications of electronics, have changed the techniques of warfare. The foot soldier, the ideal fighting force of the Pentagon, will probably be come a small occupying and police force in the wars of the future, just as the horse cavalry began to disappear at the time when Herber Hoover was President and General Douglas MacArthur was his Chief of Staff.

Therefore, when the Bureau of the Budget seeks to save some money, let it keep its hands off the Atomic Energy Commission. That is one place where it is not safe, while we are actually at war, to make severe cuts. It would be safer to eliminate the expensive committee system in vogue in the Pentagon, a system which wastes time and money and gives the top brass and the governing civilians an alibi for avoiding direct responsibility. Group responsibility is expensive and confusing. This system was introduced by General George Marshall and can be discarded without any great loss.

But it would be foolhardy to make cuts in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, particularly in relation to its researches. Often an Administration, seeking to avoid unpopularity, makes its cuts in obscure agencies, thus averting a quarrel with members of Congress who served vested interests in the expenditures.

Every citizen has a vested interest in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, because each of our lives and the lives of our children are dependent upon the work of this agency of government. There is no private activity in this field; it is a government monopoly. Congress can keep it strong or reduce it to a sterile bureau of the Administration. The Pentagon can take it over with the consent of Congress, and make it a soft-ball of inter-service politics. This should be watched closely at this moment when the Bureau of the Budget is looking for something to lop off the government payroll.

HALF-INSURANCE?

One day Mr. Halfinsured shopped with his wife for a work-saving washer and dryer. He forgot (what a shame!) that additions like these made the sum of his assets much higher.

One night Mr. Halfinsured's home was destroyed, the fire was quite a humdinger. And now Mrs. Halfinsured scrubs at a board while her husband is trapped by the wringer!
